BroadAgeCategory: MSA, LSA

Site Category: Artefacts

SiteComments:

This is another scatter of MSA/LSA stone tools and flakes found in the area. The site has a low to medium significance, as the tools are scattered around the area and the area might not be directly impacted on by the mining activities. The documentation (recording and photographs taken) done during the survey is deemed sufficient, although, if opencast operations are to take place here the site and the stone age artifacts need to be collected and mapped in more detail.

AdminComments:

GPS coordinates are not precise mapped by hand.
