SiteComments:

This site is situated approximately 400 metres south-west of Site 1 and approximately 500 metres west of the Botha's River Dam. It is located on the side of a small east facing hill with a gentle slope towards the dam. The rocky hill area is well covered mainly with large and short bushes and Euphorbia spp., but the slope is sparsely covered by small bushes. The archaeological visibility was good but no archaeological remains were observed.
