

Archaeological Site Report	SiteNo	9/2/403/0002
	Site Name	Umhlatuzana Rock Shelter 2930DD98, Farm Kirkfalls
	Date	14227, Camperdown District
	Project
	CaseNID
	Coords	-29.807257, 30.755746

Page No: 1      SiteAutoID: 26366

Site Category: Archaeological

Directions:

From Pmb take N3 to Dbn. Just past Assagaay turn-off & immediately before crossing bridge over Umhla Umhlatuzana Rock Shelter lies alongside the N3 between Pietermaritzburg and Durban.

SiteComments:

Archive Import History: The shelter has a long and detailed dequence dating from around 100 00 years ago to the AD 1800s. T Visual Description: Situated in a deep gorge in the Natal Group quartzite at an altitude of 530m. The Shelter is 43m wid Colours: Site Features: Well-screened by vegetation; Kloof forest, surrounded by Aristida junciformis Grassland. Condition: Construction Date: Materials: Catalogue: Whitelaw, 1994, No: , Significance Category: HCS

AdminComments:

Bibliography archive: Kaplan, J. The Umhlatuzana Rock Shelter: 100 000 years of Stone Age history: Natal Museum Journal of Humanities. 2 : 1-94.

Damage Types: