

Archaeological Site Report  Page No: 1 SiteAutoID: 130244	SiteNo	"2725AB/ Minerals/ farm Maraetchesfontein 54/ Site
	Site Name	Rock engraving
	Date	17/08/2020 - 00:37
	Project
	CaseNID
	Coords	-27.130861, 25.381611

Site Category: Archaeological

SiteComments:

Site 1 (GPS: S27°07'51.1" E25°22'53.8") is a rocky outcrop roughly 130 meters east of the Harts River. At least ten individual boulders depict rock art. Rock engravings are made by pecking, scraping or incising into the rock surface. All imagery here was made by pecking. An upright stone at this site was used as a rubbing post by large mammals (particularly rhino) to get rid of skin parasites for many millennia. Such rubbing posts are common indicators of San rock art in the vicinity. Imagery at the site includes a black rhino, human figure, giraffe, zebra, hartebeest, possible eland and some indeterminate, seemingly unfinished images.

Damage Types:

Details of Rock Art:

Imagery at the site includes a black rhino, human figure, giraffe, zebra, hartebeest, possible eland and some indeterminate, seemingly unfinished images.