Site Category: Building

SiteComments:

A straight single-storey house on the street. It has an iron saddle roof at 45° and a loft door on the end gable wall. The street front has been somewhat modernised. It may possibly have once had a long verandah. The front façade has recent large steel windows and modern doors with single fanlights. This is a building of traditional proportions and probably also a part of King's Bros. Waggon Works. It should be protected under the Town Planning Scheme.
