Is there currently any maps available indicating whether the transmission line will cross railway or pipeline servitude(s) in the area?

The Transnet stakeholder that will register will depend on which servitudes is being impacted.

Good day,

You have sent a letter to Francina Petronella Johanna Elizabet Jansen, PO Box 2, Shelly Beach as a Land Owner.

Please let me know where you got this information as their property (Mrs Jansen and her late husband- my father and mother in law), which is a portion of the Farm Groenvallei, was sold during December 2000 and the property transferred into the new owner's name. She has relocated during December 2000 to Shelly Beach.

Thank you and best regards.

Hi Diane

The plan seems fine except that the map in it needs to change as well as the timelines to accommodate the new substation study area.

Good day Pat,

Thank you for taking time to visit us last week. It was interesting to hear about your expansion ideas and how the BOSA project may impact your planning process. Thank you for sharing your perspective on the potential constraints on your land and the surrounding area.

As indicated in our meeting, we are currently in the feasibility phase of the project, so we are still a minimum of twelve months away from a decision as to whether to construct the line or not. This decision will be taken by SAPP CC, as the client, as well as the two Sponsor utilities. As the appointed Transaction Advisor, Aurecon is actively engaging with affected stakeholders and considering potential impacts on the proposed line route. At this early stage of the project, the first step in this instance is to review the line route in light of the specific constraints that you have brought to our attention. The outcome of this review will be communicated to you in due course for your further consideration and interaction.

Kind regards
