1. INTRODUCTION

PGS Heritage (Pty) Ltd (PGS) was appointed by Netrac Investments No62 (Pty) Ltd, to affect the relocation of 68 graves. The graves were located at erf 4460, 4461 and 4463, Kudube Unit 4, Hammanskraal, in the Tshwane Metropolitan Municipality, Gauteng Province. The burial ground will not be impacted by any construction, the property is being sold and as part of the buyer's contract, the graves need to be relocated before the property can be sold.

The exhumation and relocations took place from the 28th of March to the 1st of April 2022, and from the 5th of April to the 8th of April 2022. A total of seventy (70) pits were opened. In total 57 graves were exhumed and relocated; 20 adults and 37 soil substitutes were taken as a means of spiritual reburial. Of the 37 soil substitutes taken, fifteen (15) were graves identified by families, and twenty-two (22) were the graves of unknown individuals. Unfortunately, due to the poor preservation, no remains were left to be identified and, in most cases, only the burial pit was visible. A total of thirteen (13) pits were found not to be graves. Four (4) additional test pits were opened to clear the area but presented no evidence of a grave pit or any human remains.

At the request of the Next-of-Kin (Nok), the exhumed remains were reinterred at four different locations: fifty-three (53) graves at the Honingsnestkrans (Pyramid) Cemetery, two (2) graves at the Temba Cemetery, one (1) grave at the Stinkwater Cemetery, and one (1) grave at the Kanana Cemetery, all located within the Tshwane Metropolitan Municipality. The graves claimed by families were reinterred on the same day as the exhumation, and all the unclaimed graves were reinterred together on the last day of the exhumations. The reburial was conducted by the Mosaic Funeral Group. Although only the Honingsnestkrans (Pyramid) Cemetery was part of the initial permit application process, the families insisted that their graves be relocated to the three other above-mentioned cemeteries, and the NoK representative for the graves signed affidavits taking full responsibility.

2. STAKEHOLDER ENGAGEMENT

The property on which the burial ground is located is being sold and as a part of the purchasing contract, the graves need to be relocated. A process of stakeholder engagement was conducted to identify buried individuals and to obtain permission for exhumation and re-interment from the affected families, communities, and other bona fide interested and affected parties. This process commenced on Friday, 18 September 2020 with the erection of bilingual (English and Setswana) site notices at the burial ground. Bilingual (English and Setswana) newspaper notices were published in the Daily Sun on 14 October 2020 and in the Moretele Times on 29 October and 06 November 2020, respectively. Bilingual pamphlet notices were distributed in the surrounding communities and to members of the public that may have an interest in the graves (this is a SAHRA COVID Regulations requirement).

The stakeholder engagement process was a two-year process. The exhumations were initially scheduled to start on 11 May 2021 but on the first day of exhumation various concerns were raised by the community and the exhumations were halted. The water table were also very high, making exhumation impossible. At first, the stakeholder engagement was conducted by PGS Heritage, but due to issues from the community, a new stakeholder engagement specialist was appointed by the client, (Netrac) who subsequently took over the process. The project had to go through two permitting phases to ensure that all the updated NoK forms were included in the application, to amend the total number of graves being applied for, and to ensure that the permits have not expired once the exhumation was scheduled.

Before the exhumations commenced and during the application phase seven different families claimed a total of 21 graves. However, during the two-week exhumations, three additional families came forward and claimed 6 graves. They explained that they were not aware of the exhumations taking place and would like their graves to be relocated as well. After consulting with the client (Netrac), they agreed that the families will be accommodated. In total ten families claimed 27 graves that were relocated from the burial ground at their request.

3. BACKGROUND AND ARCHIVAL RESEARCH

Background research was conducted for the area of erf 4460, 4461 and 4463, Kudube Unit 4. The graves do not appear on the First Edition (1967) or the latest (Sixth) edition (2010) 1:50 000 Topographic Sheets. A depiction of a hut does appear near the cemetery on the 1967 map, along with other structures located to the south of the cemetery. The Sixth Edition (2010) Topographical Sheet indicates that the area was heavily built up over the years and is currently identified as an industrial area.

The Aerial Photograph (253_005_26101) dating to 1901 from the CDNGI Geospatial Portal (<http://www.cdngiportal.co.za/cdngiportal/>) is the oldest of the area available. The graves are not visible on the photograph, although a historic structure is located close by.

4. LEGAL COMPLIANCE

The process of exhumation and re-interment of human remains in the Gauteng Province is governed by the National Heritage Resources Act (Act 25 of 1999) (NHRA). The Gauteng Province is elected to implement Regulation 363 promulgated under the National Health Act (Act 61 of 2003) as guidelines for the handling of human remains. The management and authorization for the relocation of burial grounds and graves are managed under Subsection 3(a) of section 36 of NHRA. This specifically controls relocations of the grave of a victim of conflict (s3(a)(a) or graves or burial grounds older than 60 years (s3(a)(b). In addition, specific Regulations¹ promulgated under the NHRA define the consultation process to be complied with regarding burial grounds and graves.

As indicated to comply with the relevant legislation, permissions to exhume and reinter remains and associated cultural material from the graves were obtained from the following responsible authorities in two phases to ensure they contain the correct number of graves and that they are valid once the exhumations were scheduled:

Environmental Health Practitioners of the Tshwane Metropolitan Health Municipality attended the exhumation proceedings each day in shift rotation as required under the provisions of the National Health Act (Act 61 of 2003). The office of the Station Commissioner of the South African Police Services (SAPS) in Themba was informed of the date of the exhumation seven days before the exhumation took place. A SAPS official was present during the exhumations on each day.

5. METHODOLOGY

The methods employed during exhumation aimed to recover all the remains, to minimise damage to the remains, to record the three-dimensional context of the remains and to preserve and respect the dignity of the buried individuals.

5.1 Recovery of the remains

The excavation methods employed aimed to accomplish the in-situ exposure of the burials and any associated artefacts (Nienaber and Steyn, 1999). The focus was on accurate and complete documentation (Nienaber, 1997). Various methods for the excavation of graves have been proposed by different authors (Hester, 1975; Joukowsky, 1980; Krogman and Iscan, 1986; Morse, 1978) and all stress the need for adequate workspace around the exposed remains and a systematic approach to the removal of individual bones. Standard forensic archaeological techniques (Steyn et al., 2000) were employed throughout the excavation of the graves to ensure the methodical retrieval of all disturbed and undisturbed human skeletal remains and associated artefacts. The area was carefully excavated and documented in situ using photography and field notes. After documentation, the in situ remains were excavated. The loose soil at the bottom of the grave pit was removed and sieved to recover any small pieces of skeletal remains or associated artefacts. The excavated area was cleaned using trowels and brushes. The remains were carefully removed and placed in body bags and coffins for reburial.

The archaeological method, including extensive test trenching to prevent damage to the remains, was employed. This approach is mainly like that of forensic archaeology, where buried body cases are concerned. The approach was adapted for each situation since graves vary in shape, size, depth, and content (Nienaber and Steyn, 1999). In this case, the extent of the burial pit was ascertained through excavation and observation of differences in the matrix. After the indications of the presence and characteristics of the burial pit had been documented, the in-fill was excavated to identify any human remains still visible. Removal of the matrix of the burial pit was accomplished through the test-trench approach, whereby a narrow trench (25-30 cm wide) is excavated with a trowel to a depth of between 15 and 20 cm in the lower third of the burial pit (in this instance the lower third usually constituted the eastern side of the grave). As no indications of the presence of human remains were observed in the test trench, the remaining in-fill matrix, down to the depth of the test trench, was removed with a shovel.

5.2 Presence of human remains

In the twenty (20) cases (20 adults – HGY-01, HGY-02, HGY-03, HGY-05, HGY-09, HGY-26, HGY-27, HGY-28, HGY-29, HGY-30, HGY-31, HGY-36A, HGY-44, HGY-48, HGY-49, HGY-51, HGY-59, HGY60A, HGY60B and HGY64) where human remains were encountered, the following methodology was followed:

As soon as human remains were encountered, care was taken to leave as much of the skeleton as possible covered, to protect the remains from damage by excavation and to preserve the integrity of the context of the skeletal elements and possible associated cultural material. The extent and characteristics of the burial pit were then documented.

The excavations continued with the aim of ascertaining the extent of the skeletal remains and the location of the different skeletal elements, after which the remains were uncovered, starting from the Mitigation Report: Relocation of Graves – erf 4460, 4461 and 4463, Kudube Unit 4, in Hammanskraal.

middle, and working outwards. This method again ensured the minimum disturbance of the remains and associated cultural materials. As soon as the skeleton was uncovered, it was documented in situ and removed. The human remains were removed and immediately placed directly into a body bag and then placed into the coffin and handed to the undertaker for reburial.

5.3 Absence of human remains

Since human remains were not encountered in thirty-five (35) burial pits (HGY04, HGY06, HGY07, HGY10, HGY11, HGY-13, HGY-14, HGY-15, HGY-16, HGY-18, HGY-19, HGY-21, HGY-22, HGY-23, HGY-24, HGY-25, HGY-32, HGY-33, HGY-34, HGY-35, HGY-38, HGY-39, HGY-40, HGY-42, HGY-43, HGY-45, HGY-47, HGY-50, HGY-52, HGY-53, HGY-61, HGY-62, HGY-63, HGY-65 and HGY-67), once it had been identified it was fully excavated by the same method as stipulated above. Great care was taken as each layer of soil was removed to ensure that poorly preserved remains were not damaged or overlooked. This is even more important as the remains were identified to be that of an infant. The grave pit became evidence of burial and was documented as such. In this case, where the grave pit was the only evidence of the presence of a grave, a soil substitute was taken from within the grave as a form of spiritual repatriation and reburied as a symbolic reburial. However, in two cases with regards to graves identified by families (HGY-41 and HGY-56), the pits presented no evidence of human remains or the actual grave pit, but at the request of the Nok a soil substitute was taken for each.

When no evidence of grave pit or human remains could be identified; and once they have been tested and did not contain any evidence of a grave pit, cultural material or human remains they were documented as not being graves. Only in thirteen (13) cases no grave pit or human remains, or any cultural material indicative of a grave was found (HGY-08, HGY-12, HGY-17, HGY-20, HGY-36B, HGY037, HGY-46, HGY-54, HGY-55, HGY-57, HGY-57, HGY-66, and HGY-68).

5.4 Test excavations

The purpose of test excavations is not to specifically expose human remains, as this may cause damage to the graves, but to identify and locate previously unmarked graves by exposing the grave pit. The methodology to conduct a test excavation in this context was to carefully excavate the topsoil of the identified area to assess whether a grave-shaped pit had been previously dug and back-filled. The exact location, extent and orientation of these possible pits can then be identified and assessed to be graves or not. This is determined by the change/disturbance in the natural stratigraphy, as seen by differing soil colour and texture. Any excavation of this nature is vigorously observed and directed by qualified and experienced personnel.

Test excavations were conducted at HGY/TP-01, HGY/TP-02, HGY/TP-03 and HGY/TP-04. Once they have been tested and did not contain any evidence of a grave pit, cultural material or human remains they were documented as not being graves.

5.6 Property description

- Kudube Unit 4, erf 4460, 4461 and 4463, Hammanskraal in the Tshwane Metropolitan Municipality, Gauteng Province.

It is important to note that the exhumations went through a two-phase period. The exhumations were initially planned for the week of the 10th of May 2021. When the exhumations commenced there were immediate concerns from the community in the area that had to be addressed and resolved before the project could commence. Another stakeholder phase was initiated, and this was followed by another permitting phase as mentioned.

Furthermore, the graves were also very waterlogged due to the site's proximity to a small wetland. An engineer was employed to assess the situation and to provide a possible solution to the problem. Attempts were made to drain and reroute the water levels. Draining trenches were dug around the site at a distance of 15m to 20m from the nearest graves. This action was undertaken in the presence of an archaeologist from PGS. Once the issue of the water was resolved, the exhumations were rescheduled.

The graves were exhumed and reburied over two weeks from the 28th of March to the 1st of April 2022, and from the 5th of April to the 8th of April 2022.

During the initial grave identification and registration phase, the Nok family representative for the Khoza family identified grave number HGY-61 as one of the family's graves. However, during the exhumation of the Khoza family's graves, they indicated that it is not their family's grave and proceeded to identify grave number HGY-53 as their grave. Photos were taken and a note was made on the grave relocation and exhumation form that the NoK family representative signed.

The NoK family representative of the Phiri family identified and registered grave number HGY-41 during the initial grave identification and registration phase. However, on the day of exhumations, the Nok family representative indicated that the initial location they pointed out was wrong, and they identified a new location for their grave. The grave was located between the two Kubayi graves (HGY-48 and HGY-49) according to the Nok representative. Photos were taken and a note was made on the grave relocation and exhumation form that the Nok family representative signed.

It is important to note that the overall preservation of the excavated human remains in the burial grounds was 0% - 25%, and of poor preservation. As the graves were older than 60 years the sex of the deceased could not be determined. The criteria used to determine the preservation of the remains are as follows (Manifold 2015):

Mitigation Report: Relocation of Graves – erf 4460, 4461 and 4463, Kudube Unit 4, in Hammanskraal.

- 0%: No remains visible but evidence of a grave pit
- 0 – 25%: Approx. bone fragments and teeth
- 25 – 50%: Approx. fragmented long bones
- 50 – 75%: Approx. smaller long bones missing
- 75 – 100%: Approx. extremities and ribs missing
- 100%: mostly intact and complete skeleton

Afterwards, the reburial of the fifty-seven (57) graves (20 adults, and 37 soil-substitutes) took place at the four different locations: fifty-three (53) graves at the Honingsnestkrans (Pyramid) Cemetery, two (2) graves at the Temba Cemetery, one (1) grave at the Stinkwater Cemetery, and one (1) grave at the Kanana Cemetery, all located in the Tshwane Metropolitan Municipality, and GPS Coordinates were taken to mark the location of the reburial position. Five (5) previously erected headstones were also relocated with the graves and fixed to their new position. Details of the individual graves and their relocations are contained in the individual grave descriptions below.

Table 2 – Cemetery reburial location.

PERMIT: Remove from its original position

Permit Holder: Mr Henk Steyn
PGS Heritage and Grave Relocation Consultants
PO Box 32542

Site: Relocation of 50 graves on Erf 4460, 4461 and 4463, Kudube Unit 4, Gauteng Province (Kudube Unit 4, Hammanskraal, Gauteng)

PGS Heritage (Pty) Ltd was appointed by Netrac Investments No62 (Pty) Ltd to effect the relocation of approximately 50 graves located in an informal burial ground in Kudube Unit 4, Hammanskraal, Gauteng Province. Six graves have been confirmed as being unknown, while the date of four graves is not currently known by the next-of-kin. Thirty-six graves are currently unclaimed and the date therefore unknown. The unknown graves will be relocated to the closest municipal cemetery since no next-of-kin for the graves could be located. In this case, the graves will be relocated to Honingnestkrans Cemetery. The graves identified by the next-of-kin will be relocated to the cemeteries as per their request. The burial ground will not be impacted by any construction, the property is being sold and as a part of the buyer's contract, the graves need to be relocated before being sold. It is unclear what the new landowners plan to do with the property. Mosaic Funeral Group will be responsible for the handling and reburial of the exhumed human remains.

This permit is allocated for the exhumation and relocation of graves that are protected in terms of section 36(3) of the National Heritage Resources Act 25 of 1999 and the following conditions must be adhered to.

Conditions:

1. If the permit holder is not to be present on the site at all times then the heritage authority must be provided with the names and qualifications of the authorized representatives.
2. Adequate recording methods as specified in the Regulations and Guidelines pertaining to the National Heritage Resources Act must be employed. Note that the position of all excavations and objects collected must be marked on a site plan.
3. A standard site record form must be lodged on SAHRIS.
