FRENCH OPEN

SERBIA'S Novak Djokovic poses with the trophy in front of the Eiffel tower. | AFP

Nothing is impossible for Djokovic

NOVAK Djokovic has set his sights on the Golden Grand Slam of all four Majors and the Olympic title, insisting: "Everything is possible". The world No 1 captured a second French Open and 19th Slam with a 6-7 (6/8), 2-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4 win over Greece's Stefanos Tsitsipas on Sunday.

secured a record ninth Australian Open in February. Next up is Wimbledon, where he is the defending champion, Olympics and then a bid to win the US Open for a fourth time. "As much as Novak is healthy, and he's healthy right now, he's in great shape, I think he has the ability to win the Grand Slam for this year."

"I've achieved some things that a lot of people thought it would be not possible for me to achieve. So, everything is possible, and I did put myself in a good position to go for the Golden Slam." The Golden Slam has never been achieved by a man while, in the women's game, only Steffi Graf in 1988 has swept all four Majors and Olympic gold in the same year.

"My guardian angels are there. I have my special corner. It's a secret. I can't reveal the secret. It's been working for me pretty well," he said. "Paris fell, Djokovic is the king of tennis" and "Novak is the king of the world" read front-page headlines of Blic and Vecernje Novosti daily newspapers in Serbia.

SOCCER

SA U23s have a lot to learn after Egyptian jaunt

SOUTH Africa's Under-23 football side succumbed to back-to-back defeats in Egypt and that does not inspire confidence ahead of the Olympic Games in Tokyo next month. The strong Egypt line-up included a few players who ply their trade in Europe, and they are the reigning Under-23 Afcon champions.

"We now have an understanding of what our core players have to offer. Some of our best players who performed well in the PSL also could not make the tour. All-in-all, we have a good blend and once we are fully prepared, we'll be a strong unit."

EURO 2020 Eriksen won't be the last footballer to suffer an on-field cardiac arrest

Comment by Eshlin Vedan The world's reaction to Denmark player Christian Eriksen suffering a cardiac arrest over the weekend proved that football is more than just a sport. Former Bolton Wanderers midfielder Fabrice Muamba, who was forced to retire at the age of 23 following a cardiac arrest while playing against Tottenham Hotspur in 2012, captured the situation best.

Finland ended up upsetting the Danes by recording a 1-0 win on Saturday, but goal scorer Joel Pohjanpelto opted to do the right and respectful the mood by not celebrating his goal. The unfortunate event would have surely reminded millions throughout the world that there is much more to life than just work or sport. It remains to be seen what the future will hold for Eriksen, but he and Muamba who survived such ordeals can certainly count themselves lucky as others have not been as fortunate.

Nouri wore the No 34 shirt at Ajax and he continues to be honoured by former teammates Justin Kluivert, Philippe Sandler, Amin Younes, Kevin Diks, Joel Veltman, Donny van de Beek and Sofyan Amrabat, who have chosen to use the same jersey number at their respective clubs. Other footballers, who were not as lucky as Eriksen, include Marc-Vivien Foe, who passed away while playing for Cameroon against France in the 2003 Confederations Cup and former Wits midfielder Faty Papy, who passed away in 2019 while playing for Eswatini club Malanti Chiefs.

Realistically, Eriksen is not going to be the last footballer to suffer a cardiac arrest on the field of play. Football is a highly intensive sport, so it is bound to happen to another victim in the future. This should hopefully be a message to football authorities around the world to have an immediate plan of action should such a situation arise.

Driving safely through SA's load-shedding

Val van der Walt

As the disaster that is Eskom is at it again with its forced power cuts, Autodealer asked Eugene Herbert, CEO of Masterdrive, an advanced driver training company, for guidelines on how to stay alive on the road when the coal gets wet.

According to Herbert, the key to managing the extra stress which the outages add to daily trips is to remain calm, familiarise yourself with load-shedding schedules and be prepared for any effect it may have on your commute.

'As frustrating as it may be, accept that load-shedding is a reality,' says Herbert.

'Get into your car prepared for the challenges this creates, and then manage them calmly and safely.'

'When you let frustration rule your decisions behind the wheel, the situation becomes dangerous.'

Herbert provides the following tips to safely navigate the roads during load-shedding:

- Attempt to avoid areas experiencing outages during your travel times with the help of apps like Google Maps

- Give yourself additional travel time so you avoid feeling pressurised while driving

- Do not drive inside the yellow line while waiting in congestion at a traffic light. This worsens the traffic for other motorists, makes it more dangerous to re-enter traffic later on and may incite anger from other drivers

- While intersections should be treated as four-way stops, often this does not happen. This makes it necessary to double check every path that crosses yours before going. Rather take longer to cross than not make it across at all

- If you find it difficult to remain calm in congestion, find ways that can assist in relaxing you, such as selecting relaxing music before you set out

- Listen to points people directing traffic and give them the respect they deserve for the help they provide

- If another driver is displaying reckless, selfish or any other questionable behaviour, rather ignore them and move out of their way than get upset or try to intervene.

Herbert's last bit of advice to get safely through Eskom's witching hours is to not drive in a way that you may later regret.

'Accept that these challenges are likely to affect you and make a mental commitment to handle them safely,' says Herbert.

Report traffic law corruption

Reports of traffic law enforcement not following the rule of law is common nowadays, but what do you do if you feel the law's conduct was unlawful?

The National Traffic Anti-Corruption Unit (NTACU), urges the public to report all suspicious conduct for investigation.

NTACU investigates cases of alleged corruption within the road traffic fraternity at testing centres and illegal dealings when motorists are pulled over for speeding, among others.

Suspected fraudulent and corrupt activity can be reported by phoning the NTACU hotline at 0861 400800 or a report can be directly sent to NTACU@rtmc.co.za

Here's what is required when reporting fraudulent and corrupt activity:

- Place where suspected fraudulent and corrupt activity occurred
- Date and time of the incident
- Names of people involved
- Amount of money involved or description of gratification/gift/ token of appreciation given

- Any other information or proof which may exist.

The NTACU was established in 2012 as a response to the challenges of ethical conduct facing the road traffic fraternity.

Its key mandate is to eliminate fraud and corruption within the national, provincial and local road traffic fraternity by ensuring the safety of all drivers, vehicles and road users who are using the country's roads.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC PARTICIPATION PROCESS
DEVELOPMENT OF THE PROPOSED MELMOTH IRON ORE MINE PROJECT NEAR MELMOTH, KWAZULU-NATAL

Notice is hereby given of a public participation process in terms of the Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) Regulations, 2014 (as amended), promulgated in terms of the National Environmental Management Act (No. 107 of 1998) (NEMA).

Jindal Iron Ore (Pty) Ltd (Jindal), owned by Jindal Steel and Power (Mauritius) Limited (74%) and Jindal's BEE partner, Mr. Thabang Khomo (26%), is proposing the development of an open pit iron ore mine and associated infrastructure on a project site located 25 km southeast of Melmoth, within the Mthonjaneni Local Municipality, in KZN. The Melmoth Iron Ore Project would comprise of an open pit, processing plant, waste rock dump, tailing storage facility and associated infrastructure. Mining activities and infrastructure would only be undertaken/developed in portions of the Mining Right area, some infrastructure may be located outside of the area. Iron ore concentrate would be transported to the Richards Bay Port, either by rail or pipeline. The concentrate will be exported as there are limited local markets.

Jindal's intent with this MR application is to consolidate their North and South Block Prospecting Rights (PR) into a single MR. The Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) will consider the entire extent of the two PR blocks, but with a specific focus on the Phase 1 area of the Melmoth Iron Ore Project. A Bankable Feasibility Study is in progress to determine specific details of the Phase 1 mine plan. Development of the mine and mining infrastructure is proposed in phases. Currently mining is only proposed to be undertaken in specific areas where the iron ore resource has been defined. Details of the phases, layout and design will be presented in the BID, Scoping and EIA Reports as they become available. Jindal has made, or will make, applications for authorisation of the project in terms of the following legislation:

SLR JINDAL
NOTICE OF PUBLIC PARTICIPATION PROCESS
DEVELOPMENT OF THE PROPOSED MELMOTH IRON ORE MINE PROJECT NEAR MELMOTH, KWAZULU-NATAL

Notice is hereby given of a public participation process in terms of the Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) Regulations, 2014 (as amended), promulgated in terms of the National Environmental Management Act (No. 107 of 1998) (NEMA).

Jindal Iron Ore (Pty) Ltd (Jindal), owned by Jindal Steel and Power (Mauritius) Limited (74%) and Jindal's BEE partner, Mr. Thabang Khomo (26%), is proposing the development of an open pit iron ore mine and associated infrastructure on a project site located 25 km southeast of Melmoth, within the Mthonjaneni Local Municipality, in KZN. The Melmoth Iron Ore Project would comprise of an open pit, processing plant, waste rock dump, tailing storage facility and associated infrastructure. Mining activities and infrastructure would only be undertaken/developed in portions of the Mining Right area, some infrastructure may be located outside of the area. Iron ore concentrate would be transported to the Richards Bay Port, either by rail or pipeline. The concentrate will be exported as there are limited local markets.

Jindal's intent with this MR application is to consolidate their North and South Block Prospecting Rights (PR) into a single MR. The Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) will consider the entire extent of the two PR blocks, but with a specific focus on the Phase 1 area of the Melmoth Iron Ore Project. A Bankable Feasibility Study is in progress to determine specific details of the Phase 1 mine plan. Development of the mine and mining infrastructure is proposed in phases. Currently mining is only proposed to be undertaken in specific areas where the iron ore resource has been defined. Details of the phases, layout and design will be presented in the BID, Scoping and EIA Reports as they become available. Jindal has made, or will make, applications for authorisation of the project in terms of the following legislation:
