The Bizniz in a Box initiative is a social responsibility by CCBSA to reduce unemployment. The initiative aims at creating an ecosystem of viable micro-business offering complementary products and services in a community using spaza shops as anchors. About 25 women and one male benefitted from the initiative. Five mobile fridges were handed over. Speaking at the handover Portfolio Head for LED Mawethu Marata urged the beneficiaries to look after the structures. "You must take care of the facilities and your customers and we will do our part in making sure that we grow the economy of Mdantsane," said Marata.

No more makeshift structures for Mdantsane Informal Traders

Talking about the programme Regional CSI Specialist Buseka Adonis said: "The Bizniz in a box started 2015 all over the country. In the Eastern Cape, however, it started in 2018 in Gqeberha." She said the programme was in line with the National Development Plan to revive township economy and address youth unemployment in the townships. The initiative has now been extended to women who already have operating small businesses.

The Ministry of Small Business Development in partnership with the Buffalo City Metro and the Dastile Wealth Insure (DWI) launched the Dastile Wealth Insure (DWI) Call Centre in East London. Minister Stella Ndabeni-Abrahams together with BCM Deputy Executive Mayor Councillor Princess Faku, Border Kei Chamber of Business CEO Lizelle Maurice, Dastile Wealth Insure Founder Vuyo Dastile and BCM Spatial and Development Planning

MMC Councillor Afrika Maxongo cut ribbon to the project that is aimed at igniting youth entrepreneurship and jobs. "This launch is very significant for us as the Metro as it has created 64 direct job opportunities for our young people in our region, and we expect it to create even more employment opportunities when it begins to grow over the next few years from strength to strength," said Cllr Faku. She welcomed the development in the City saying "it communicates a message of confidence in the Metro's Growth and Development Strategy for 2030 – which seeks to build an interconnected smart city that is the hub... of innovation and productive investments." Vuyo Dastile, owner of the Dastile Wealth Insure, said: "We are here to show you that anything is possible. We believe that with the commitment and support from the Buffalo

City Metro we can grow further." "We want the international investors to make the Eastern Cape their first stop for business because we are not only employing young people, we train and skill them through our learnership programme for the job market readiness."

FESTIVE LIGHTS

Crowd gathers for switch on event

KAYLYNNE BANTOM

More than 60 000 people gathered at the Grand Parade and along Adderley Street in Cape Town on Sunday 27 November for the Festive Lights switch-on event.

The free event made a return following a two-year hiatus due to the Covid-19 pandemic.

For the first time, the event was powered by renewable energy, thanks to the green credits banked by the City of Cape Town by way of the Darling Wind Farm, with whom the City has a partnership.

This year's theme 'Cape Town - City of Hope' celebrates Capetonians' resilience, and how, as a united force challenges can be overcome.

Cape Town Mayor Geordin Hill-Lewis says he felt nostalgic.

"I remember as a young boy coming to this event with my mom to see them switch on these lights. I am now switching it on myself and seeing all these kids here they will see it just like I saw it."

Hill-Lewis cautioned Capetonians to stay safe this holiday season.

"We have a beautiful city, but it can also be dangerous. We want people to listen to our officers please stay safe on our beaches, don't drink and drive. Spend time with your loved ones and stay safe."

The mayor says safety plans have been put in place to ensure everyone's safety.

"We will have 4 000 officers on duty this festive season.

On all of our beaches, you will see our quad bikes, horses, helicopters and boats. Our teams will make sure our kids don't lose their parents by doing the Identikit bands on beaches. And our new high-way patrol unit will be out on the roads."

Alicia Martinus, from Hout Bay, says: "We are so happy that we can attend this show. The last time we attended was in 2019. The vibe is fantastic."

The massive crowd was entertained by a host of local artists including 4IAM, Bernice West with Jazzart Dance

The lights was officially switched on at 21:00 on Sunday 27 November.

Theatre Company, Emo Adams, Zakes Bantwini and Mi Casa.

Joao da Fonseca, better known as J Something lead singer for Mi Casa, shared a special message with Capetonians for the festive season.

"May we shower each other with happiness, love and may we be peaceful with one another. May we have fun and celebrate and may those who have been working hard the whole year take some time off. For those of us who will be working, may we work with everything that we have."

LETTER

Department of Public Works disaster

The deplorable state of the buildings owned by the Department of Public Works in Simon's Town is deeply disappointing.

One would think that these buildings, most of which have heritage significance, would be treated with much more care and respect.

Maintenance of any building is an ongoing project and it is bizarre that the Department of Public Works is unable to plan and conduct maintenance as required. I would love to know where the maintenance budget is being spent because it most certainly is not being spent in Simon's Town.

The Department cannot even maintain its own vacant properties many of which are heavily overgrown with invasive alien species of vegetation, some of these properties have rubbish that is knee-deep. Trying to engage with the Department of Public Works on these issues is an exercise in futility as they never take action.
