A Tribute to Judy Redelinghuys

Judith Amy Redelinghuys was born on 14 October 1948, to Doris and Herbert Bassage in Pietermaritzburg. Judy was the eldest of four sisters Megan, Karen and Glenda.

At a young age her mother fell ill and Judy took care of her sisters and helped her father to run the household. Her stories of running home during school breaks to feed her baby sisters tell us of the capable and well organised woman that she became. The close bond between the Bassage sisters is legendary.

Throughout their lives they worked closely together and supported each other in everything they did. Judy matriculated from Commercial High Pietermaritzburg in 1968. In 1969 she started to work at Coca-Cola in Maritzburg and started a 20 year long relationship with the company and product of which she was passionate about.

Here she also met the love of her life, Red Redelinghuys. Red had already been involved with Coca-Cola for many years, starting as a truck driver and working himself up the ladder to regional manager. Judy and Red got married on 26 June 1971 in her home town. Red was loved by Judy's sisters and parents as a son and brother. In 1973 Judy and Red asked her father, known to everyone as Pops, to move to Upington to manage the maintenance department of the Coca-Cola factory.

while being pregnant with her first child. Her daughter, Leanne was born on 5 March 1975. She loved to tell that she was happy her birth waited for her to finish the end of the month book keeping. In 1977 Judy sold her beloved baby shop as Coca-Cola was rapidly growing. In 1979 Red and Judy started the great adventure of building, from scratch, the Upington Bottling Company, moving Coca-Cola to the industrial area of Upington.

Judy became an integral part of the community and everything she took on she did wholeheartedly. Judy served on the PTO of Fanie Malan School for many years, even after her daughter, Leanne had finished there. Judy became the first woman to be the secretary of the NWK Rugby Union in 1985, supporting her husband, Red's passion for the sport. She was an active member in the Methodist Church of Upington.

Judy was on the committee of the Upington Swimming Club for the 14 years that her daughter swam there. Judy was a Mommy to all the swimmers, and eventually bought a Combi to transport as many kids as possible to weekend galas. Judy and Red were also passionate members of the Lion's Club of Upington, supporting numerous charities at the time.

In 1989 Red and Judy decided to start a new chapter and sold the Coca-Cola factory. Red bought a small farm and Judy a shoe shop in Schröder Street, Upington Skoenwinkel. In 1992, her lifelong partner, Red, passed leaving her heartbroken but never broken. Her sister, Karen helped her run the shop and took over management when in 1993 Judy started a new challenge and bought the Woolworths Upington Franchise. Judy became the Woolies Tannie, again passionate about her brand, she won awards of excellence for her branch numerous times.

In 1994 Judy's daughter, Leanne, met Yaacov Arnon in Israel. A year later they moved to South Africa.

This was the start of a close relationship with Yaacov, both as a son-in-law and business partner. In 2010 Judy and Yaacov together started the project of renovating what has become the ORI building. In 2012 Judy sold Woolworths Upington bringing an end to that chapter of her life. Until her passing Judy and Yaacov were integral in the running and supporting of each other's businesses.

Judy was blessed with four granddaughters, Sheli, Tal, Ela and Adi. She was passionate about her grandbabies, proud of every accomplishment no matter how big or small and proud of being a granny. Upington will never forget her red Z4 BMW with the number plate Granny NC! This extraordinary woman was also a second mother to her sister's children and second grandmother to their children. Kelvin, Carmen, Christine, Adrian, Duane, Siobahn, Karin and Nicolene were sons and daughters to Aunty Jude who lovingly helped guide them through every part of their lives.

Judy loved children fiercely and felt a deep need to support charities that helped them. During the time of having the Woolworths Franchise she was involved in a feeding scheme of the street children. In recent years she gave monthly financial support to the Leer & Leef Upington Gemeenskapsprojek. Judy became an indispensable part of the Upington community. Everything she took on, she did wholeheartedly.

This beautiful woman, inside and out, was a woman with many talents and abilities and a good shot of common sense. She believed it was important to be authentic with people – she listened, agreed or disagreed, but always said what needed to be said. She believed that direct conversation was good for the soul.

Judy lived a personal and business life based on truthful relationships. She never judged or forced her opinion on others – she would rather offer valuable advice.

Judy Redelinghuys lived a large, colourful and abundant life. Her quiet faith in her loving God carried her through life. She found strength in Him in hard times and gave thanks to Him for His countless blessings.

She is mourned by family, friends and an entire community who will miss her dearly. Her silent and steadfast presence will be especially missed by her friends and neighbours of Budler Close. The fish eagles from her beloved Orange River will call her name.

Her family is thankful for every message, phone call, e-mail and quick stop for a hug. They have been enfolded by the love and support of the town which Judy called home and loved with all her heart.

Judy's parents and sisters all moved to Upington and settled into the community.

Straight after the wedding Judy and Red moved to Cape Town, Bloubergstrand for only a few months as soon after they were offered the opportunity to buy the Coca-Cola factory in Upington. And so the young English Lady found her way to the heart of the Northern Cape. Red loved to tell that when they drove into Upington he told Judy to look out the window at the Karakul. Her reply was that it looked just like a sheep! Judy and Red took over the existing Coca Cola factory in Le Roux Street from the Bellon Brothers in 1972.

While managing the administration of Coca-Cola Judy decided in 1975 that she needed another challenge and opened a baby store, 'Just Kiddin' in Rivier Street, midtown. This
