Severe storms in Free State cause outages and damage to Eskom structures

Severe storms that spread through the Free State on Wednesday night caused electricity outages and damage to Eskom structures in various areas of the province. The Theseus/Beatrix 132 kV line supplying mines in the Welkom area collapsed at 23h18 on Wednesday evening, leaving mines without electricity supply. Eskom and the mines are attending to this as a matter of extreme urgency. Houses and structures in the Theunissen/Brandfort area have also been damaged, resulting in a dangerous situation where power lines are lying on the ground. Residents are urged to be extremely careful and to avoid contact with these lines as touching it might result in serious injury or death. Supply has been lost to parts of Theunissen and Masilo Township. "While we are doing everything within our power to recover electricity supply as speedily as possible, repairing damage of this magnitude will take time. We ask for patience while we restore supply and urge the communities in the affected areas to be safe by avoiding all electrical structures and lines. Electricity supply can be switched on without notice. We advise consumers to switch off all electrical sockets and appliances and to treat all electrical connections as live and dangerous, said Eskom in a statement. For more information and updates, customers can contact the Eskom Contact Centre on 08600 ESKOM (08600 37566).

WHY ME.....?

My girlfriend visited me last night. When she went to bathroom to shower, her phone rang, I looked and saw Will Smith Calling.... I didn't say much. After that, another call came in and when I checked, it was CHRIS BROWN Calling, I was a little bit nervous but I remained calm. Within few minutes, another call came in from a different person, it was JUSTIN BIEBER Calling...I said to myself, Does It Mean This Girl Is A Celeb And I Don't Know? As if that was not enough, another call came in with a saved name as DRAKE. Something stirred in my mind and I decided to dial my number to see what she saved mine as what. I dialed the number what I saw was Penny Penny Calling!
