

The passion of the cross

RUSTENBURG – On 25 December 2013, a special Christmas service was held at Little Margate to celebrate Jesus Christ and the love of God for people.

A cross was set up to serve as reminder about what Jesus accomplished for mankind, the life and victory we have in Him and about the loving heart that God has toward people.

The service, which started at 08:00, commenced with intercessory prayers from various local churches' representatives and with worship. Representatives from different churches shared about the Gospel of Jesus Christ, as He is and always has been the centre of God's plan to redeem man. The weather started to turn during the service as rain came down softly, and eventually quite strong, but people attending had no problem sharing their shelter under umbrellas and gazebos with each other. As the rain started to dissipate slowly, the service ended and the cross was put up.

About six churches (His Vision Church, Vantage Point, His People, Hervormde Kerk, Jadah Ministries and All Nations) were represented at the Christmas service and it was quite special to see and be part of the united celebration of Jesus Christ with different churches from Rustenburg. The project was launched by His Vision Church and everyone was invited to be part of it. "We trust that we, as community, will start to stand together more and unite in prayer and worship as well as work together so that Rustenburg and further can hear and experience the Gospel of Jesus and the love of God."
