

Photograph 25: Rubble and building waste observed on the vacant undeveloped land situated south of the fence which runs from east to west.

Photograph 26: Illegal dumping, human and livestock disturbance have degraded the natural vegetation likely to occur in this area.

APPENDIX A1

Photograph Log – Environmental Observations

Photograph 27: The property lies in the general area that supports Albany Alluvial Vegetation which is classified as endangered according to the new vegetation map of South Africa (Mucina & Rutherford 2006).

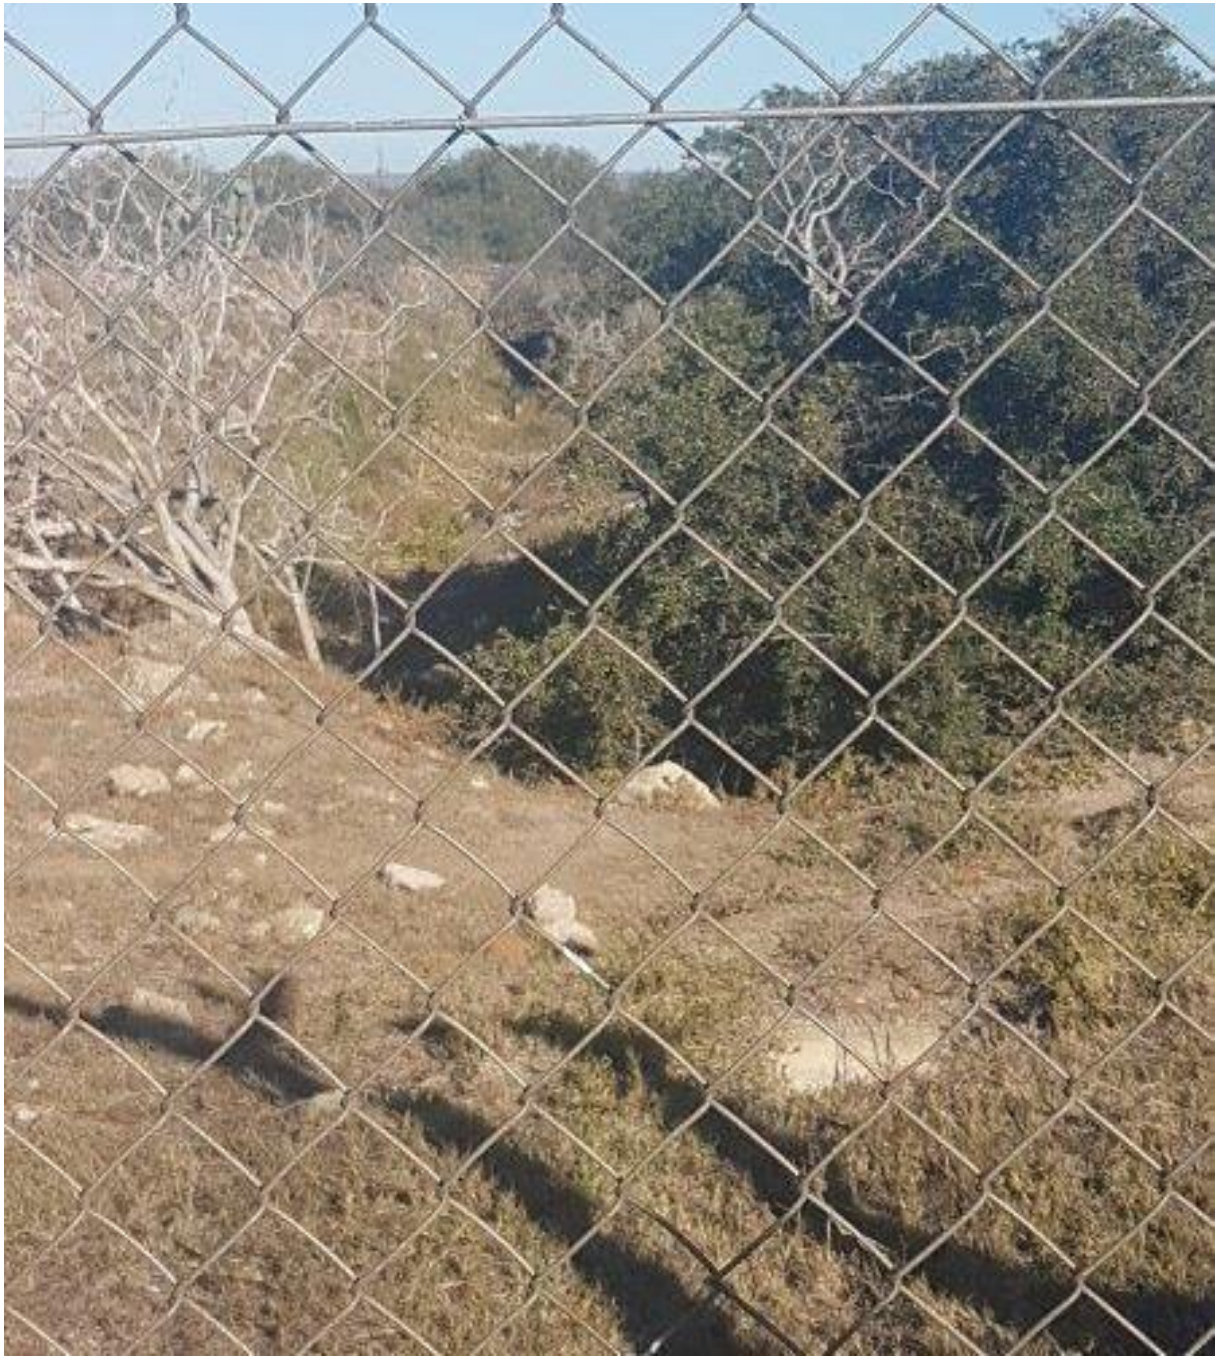

Photograph 28: During the site inspection some alien species were noted such as Port Jackson.

APPENDIX A1

Photograph Log – Environmental Observations

Photograph 29: A trench which runs from the fence line all the way to Kelvin Street, is evident on the western boundary of the undeveloped vacant property.

Photograph 30: A trench which runs from the fence line all the way to Kelvin Street, is evident on the western boundary of the undeveloped vacant property.

APPENDIX A1

Photograph Log – Environmental Observations

Env Observations - Photo Locations

Scale: 1:4 514
Date created: July 9, 2018

Western Cape Government
Agriculture