Dear Collette

These sound fine. But can we have a sense of who the institutions involved in these permit applications, in full description. We do have the old general problem of a few institutions applying for permits, which is part of the ongoing crisis of archaeological education.

No objection, Colette.

Pity we don't receive the odd map and photograph to make our task more informed. One of my Honours students, (Amanda McLachlan, now Dr Amanda Rau) completed an Honours Project on the sediment dynamics of the beach beside the wreck of the OOSTERLAND off Paarden Eiland.
