

- Full proposal, including schedule of the filming

We are working on a documentary series about women in science, funded by the Department of Science and Technology. The show aims to promote women's entry into science careers and also to demystify and excite viewers about new areas of scientific endeavour. Among some of the diverse topics we will be covering are: space science at HartRAO, synthetic biology at the CSIR and paleoarchaeology at the Institute for Human Evolution at Wits. This will be a six part documentary series, an hour per episode, and will be aired on SABC2 in July.

I hereby request permission to film an insert of Woman In Science, at the Drimolen cave on the 7th of June in the afternoon, we are first going to film at Maropeng in the morning and then at the cave in the afternoon with, Dr Colin, Stephanie Baker and Zandile. We would like to film a real excavation.
