Ethelbert's successful high-tea

TEA, treats and entertainment for 160 women raised more than R35 000. Ethelbert Child and Youth Care Centre hosted a Women's Month high tea at the Durban Botanical Gardens on Friday, 24 August to raise funds for the organisation.

"It was a highly successful fund-raiser. The event was attended by 160 women and we raised more than R35 000 which will be used for food, school educational needs and therapeutic services for our children," said Ethelbert Child and Youth Care Centre director, Vanessa Theophilus.

An all-embracing entertainment line-up included the latest fashion being discussed by Fashion Nanny, Sabrina Maingard and a performance by 16-year-old Keely Crocker, whose achievements include two first place wins at Talent America in 2017.

"I am so touched there are so many people in the community trying to help the Ethelbert children," Crocker said at the event.

High Tea attendees were spoiled with goodie bags and wonderful spot prizes.

"We sincerely appreciate the generosity and kindness of our sponsors," said Ethelbert spokesperson, Tania Sandberg.

Celebrate Ganesh Chaturthi with Hindu community

THE Queensburgh Hindu Dharma Sabha, an affiliate of the South African Hindu Dharma Sabha, will celebrate Ganesha Chaturthi on Thursday, 13 September.

The community is invited to unite in prayer in praise of the Hindu Lord, the remover of obstacles.

The evening includes a special fire ceremony and every devotee will have the opportunity to participate in the rituals. Blessings will be offered by the officiating priest and devotees will depart with Maha Prasad (Holy offering).

Lord Ganesha, known as the elephant-headed God, is an extremely important deity in Hinduism due to his role as the giver of wisdom.

"The occasion of Ganesha Chaturthi gives us, as spiritual aspirants, an opportunity to remember what Lord Ganesha stands for and a chance to reignite ourselves in our search for divinity. In a community filled with many obstacles on the path of individuals, conducting such a prayer is of paramount importance," explained Naicker.

He said the Queensburgh Hindu Dharma Sabha urges the community to come and receive blessings at an evening filled with prayer, devotional hymns and dance in praise of Lord Ganesha at the West Park School Hall in Queensburgh and begins at 6.30pm.

For further details, contact Mr K Naicker on 083 789 7545 or 031 464 7545.
