

A single stone cairn, approximately 75cm in length was identified on the site. No other indicators of habitation have been identified

A single stone cairn, approximately 75cm in length was identified on the site. No other indicators of habitation have been identified

