

Figure 1: View of the area with already constructed houses located approximately 600meters west of the area where remains have been uncovered.

Figure 2: The site was barricaded with danger tapes and Iron pegs, all construction activities were cordoned off until the remains were rescued.

Figure 3: Several human remains collected scattered from the surface includes Mandible, tibia, cranium bones