The school will be developed on 18.8344 hectares and is to be serviced with a private treatment works/package plant. Grey water harvesting will be implemented for irrigation purposes.

5. Basic Assessment Process

The NEMA activities which are triggered by the proposed development require an application for an Environmental Authorisation, in the form of a Basic Assessment process, and a Basic Assessment Report (BAR) will be submitted to GDARD. The listed activities linked to these interventions are as follows:

Activities listed under GN R983:

Activity 27 – The clearance of an area of 1 hectares or more, but less than 20 hectares of indigenous vegetation.

- Within 107 days of receipt of Basic Assessment Report, GDARD to grant or refuse environmental authorisation.

8. Biophysical Environment

8.1 Geology and Soils

The site is situated on a gentle slope, at 1370m above sea level. The geology is predominantly dolomite. Mean rainfall is approximately 593mm per annum, falling mostly in the summer months. Occasional frosts occur in winter. The soils are shallow and rocky, with some dolomite outcrops present on the site.

8.2 Vegetation and Landscape Features

The site consists of open grasslands that is moderately degraded. The central portion of the site appears to consist of old cultivated lands on a low-scale (not extensive or commercial in nature). Presently it appears that the grass is regularly cut for either cattle fodder or to some extent for thatching purposes. The former seems the more likely. Here and there are signs of illegal dumping of rubbish. There is a small site towards the south where old broken down buildings are, which would need to be assessed in terms of heritage status. In terms of ecological sensitivity, there is a small rocky area in the northeast. This is the most sensitive area on the site and does contain a few orange data plant species, such as Boophone disticha. No red data species were observed.

8.4 Hydrology

The site is not affected by any watercourses or wetlands.

9. Infrastructure and Services

The proposed development is to be supplied with roads and storm water, sewerage reticulation, electricity, and potable water.

10. Environmental Issues Identified

Environmental impacts will be identified and assessed in terms of their significance. Potential environmental impacts will be identified for the construction and operational period.

Potential construction impacts.

- Loss of vegetation;
- Air pollution: dust;
- Containment of litter and rubble during construction;

- Containment of litter and rubble during removal from site;
- Traffic impact of construction vehicles;
- Job creation during construction period;
- Safety & Security;
- Noise.

Potential operational impacts.

- Erosion
- Colonisation of disturbed areas by alien invasive plant species;
- Compatibility of development with surrounding land uses;
- Traffic Increase;
- Job creation during the operational phase;

Management guidelines will be developed for these issues and incorporated in an Environmental Management Programme.

Interested and Affected Parties are welcome to comment on this list and provide additional anticipated issues and possible impacts which should be addressed.

11. Role of the Interested & Affected Parties (I&AP's)

Registered I&AP's have the right to bring to the attention of the Environmental Authority any issues that they believe may be of significance to the consideration of the application.

The rights of the I& AP's are qualified by certain obligations, namely:
