In the context of a scientific documentary that we are making for the French cultural television channel Arte, we follow a scientific archaeological expedition in search of the first men led by Laurent Bruxelles (of INRAP). We want to come and film at the cradle site so that he can show and explain to us where and how Little Foot was found. The shooting will take place between 8-10 December 2021 and we have the support of Prof Marion Bamford (University of the Witwatersrand).
