During the time when we were busy conducting background studies of the aforementioned proposed projects, it transpires that these projects are located in the area where Archaeological Impact Assessment (AIA) have already been conducted, in 2010 and 2012 respectively and for comparable projects. These AIA, which are on the same farm, covered the same extent as your proposal, and were conducted by professional archaeologist. Hence, as an independent archaeologist, I recommend that you request an exemption from SAHRA, where in an AIA is not redone, since the area has been surveyed, and no new materials are expected. Conversely, the recommendation as stipulated in these reports must be adopted and abided at all times, during the process of prospecting. Attached please find the reports as uploaded from sahris. Please let us know what SAHRA, who are acting as an authority for Northern Cape are suggesting. Thank you and it's a pleasure to do business with you.

Yours sincerely,
