

APPENDIX 2

HAAKDORINGDRAAI: PHOTOGRAPHIC EVIDENCE

Fig. 1: A general view facing north (the mountain is outside of the study area).

Fig. 2: A general view of the area facing south also gives an indication of the visibility at the time of the survey.

Fig. 3: A general view of the study area facing east (mountains are outside of the study area).

Fig. 4: A general view of the study area facing west. The fence forms the southern boundary and the white shade net visible in front, is on the adjacent farm.

Fig. 5: An area south of the workers' accommodation, was cleared for a soccer field.

Fig. 6: The infrastructure (mainly workers' accommodation) is visible (see Map 5).

Fig. 7: An area near the workers' accommodation is used for religious purposes.

Fig. 8: The altar at the religious site.

Fig. 9: This area was pointed out as the site of an unmarked grave.

Fig. 10: The foundations of recent workers' houses are visible to the west of the current workers' accommodation.

Fig. 11: One of the foundations of a recent house.

Fig. 12: Enamel and iron remnants are still visible near the foundations of recent houses.

Fig. 13: A stone which was used by LIA inhabitants, show indentations / markings.

Fig. 14: Disturbed foundations are visible in this area.